INTRODUCTION

North Lanarkshire Adult Protection Committee (APC) has worked with partners to offer this workforce learning and development programme for 2026.

The North Lanarkshire Adult Protection Committee are committed to support best practice across all agencies involved in Adult Support and Protection process and by doing so it is hoped that:

Adults who experience or are at risk of harm are safer as a result of the support, protection and services they receive.

Achieving this requires a workforce that works together across organisational boundaries to significantly improve wellbeing and outcomes for adults at risk of harm in North Lanarkshire. We therefore need a flexible, competent, and confident multi-agency workforce supported by learning and development opportunities. This programme is a key component in making this vision a reality.

WHO IS THIS WORKFORCE LEARNING AND DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME FOR?

We all have a shared responsibility to support adults at risk of harm in North Lanarkshire. The APC are supporting multi-agency learning as there is a recognised benefits of learning together, sharing practice issues and effective networking, which contribute positively to the development of multi-agency working and ensure that an adult at risk of harm is as safe and protected as they can be.

It is recognised that dependent on service provision and staff role, different levels of competence, knowledge and skills are required across Adult Support and Protection.

The information below is meant as a guide for managers and staff to support their learning and professional development in adult protection.

It is in not an exhaustive list and identifies where we would generally expect a worker to be placed.

In some cases, workers will find that another level is more appropriate to their specific needs. When in doubt workers should in the first case speak to their managers.

The framework has three workforce groups within multi-agency training provision, which require and provide different competences, knowledge and skills, based on the nature and extent of their contact and work with adults.

Three groups:

- The General Contact Workforce
- The Specific Contact Workforce
- The Intensive Contact Workforce

Course: Trauma Informed Practice

About this course:

It is crucial for staff working with Adult Support and Protection or encounter adults at risk of harm to understand the impact of trauma and how trauma informed practice can support adults at risk of harm.

The NHS Education for Scotland (NES) team have created a National Trauma Training programme with key e-learning and resources.

“The key trauma training resources from the National Trauma Training Programme are openly available to support all members of the Scottish workforce to meet the vision of:

“A trauma informed and responsive nation and workforce, that is capable of recognising where people are affected by trauma and adversity, that is able to respond in ways that prevent further harm and support recovery and can address inequalities and improve life chances.”

Trauma is ‘everyone’s business’ and every member of the Scottish Workforce has a role to play in understanding and responding to people affected by trauma. This doesn’t mean that everyone needs to be a trauma expert —we know that different expertise and skills are required to support people’s recovery — but it does mean that all workers, in the context of their own role and work remit, have a unique and essential trauma informed role to play in responding to people who are affected by trauma.” (NES)

If you are attending the Multi-agency Level 1 above, we would recommend that you are trained at Trauma Informed Practice Level. Are you attending Multi-agency Level 2 or Second Worker training we would recommend that you undertake Trauma enhanced or Trauma Specialist practice level.

Information regarding what expected level of training (Dependent on role) can be found here.

If you have access to LearnNL please access the Trauma Informed Practice Course here: LearnNL Login

If you do not have access to LearnNL the resources and e-learning can be access by creating an account or log in to the Turas site, this is free and you should use your work or professional email address you can do this here: Home | Turas
